

EarthApples

What food was at Feast? Potatoes for the potato salads

What is EarthApples?

“Earth apples. Peel and cut them small, simmer them in water and press it well out through a fine cloth; chop them small and fry them in bacon that is cut small; take a little milk there under and let it simmer therewith so it is good and well tasting.”

Marx Rumpolt, Ein New Kochbuch (A New Cookbook), 1581

“EarthApples seed potatoes began with the goal of bringing gardeners and balcony growers an amazing culinary potato experience, replete with flavour and colours. Like producers of fine wines, we carefully consider the special characteristics of each variety and suggest the best ways to prepare and serve them. So as the grower, you’ll know how to get those crispy golden fries, those mouth-watering baby potatoes or that brilliant splash of colour on your plate. We realize not everyone has a garden, so we have assembled a nice selection of varieties that also grow beautifully on a deck or balcony. Our EarthApples are delicious, healthy, and easy for you to grow, even the first time. And when harvested, they are the perfect pairing to any meal!”
